GLEICHEN SECOND ANNUAL STAMPEDE DRAWS BIG CROWDS. EVENTS WERE FULL OF ACTION

Gleichen's Second Annual Stampede has passed into history as one of the marked features of Alberta in the year of 1915, and will long be remembered by thousands of men, women and children as an event that is worthy of recounting to their children and their children's children in years to come

If there is any fault to be found it must be with the weather man, but every day he behaved better than his brethren at Grassy Lake, Redcliff, where a torrid drought havoc, and even at Calgary accomplished much damage and loss of life. Here in Gleichen our weather man started off the first day of the Stampede in his prettiest mood with glorious Sunny Alberta weather Thursday morning and he continued good until well along in the afternoon when quite a shower came. However, on Friday he behaved very badly and that evening and night gave some of the heaviest rain we have experienced in many years, but was good enough to delay it until the last event had been pulled off.

Wednesday, several hundred strangers were in town most of whom took the opportunity of strolling up to the Agricultural grounds to witness the roasting of the big steer so generously given by Mr. William Hill for the barbecue and which all enjoyed a few of the following two days.

When the sun arose Thursday morning it shone brightly on as fine a lot of bunting, flags, etc., as ever displayed in this town or, we venture to say, as gorgeous a display as ever presented in a town of this size.

About 11 o'clock a big train load of people arrived from Calgary and immediately pointed and then the big parade started off, headed by the 12th C.M.R. band. The parade was a very large one and unique in many respects, being participated in by hundreds of cowboys and cowgirls in their gayest costumes, and Hardwick Bros., round-up wagon and outfit as well as many citizens, ranchers and old-timers, though the most interesting feature to visitors was the immense band of Wild horses which was safely driven again, the crowd lining the streets when a hitch or accident allowed a few of the real wild horses showed their appreciation of having a band for the first time. After parading the principal streets of the town the procession wended its way to the Stampede grounds where the barbecue festivities—something new to all—were indulged in after which the program was taken up and carried through with great credit to the management until the rain interfered, necessitating postponing the balance until the following morning, which was done without interfering with Friday's events.

Nothing could have been more real or true to life than the work of the contestants and their well-trained horses. The old west is rapidly giving place to the farmers, but still remains many of the oldtimers and cowboys who give in their the and those were in the spotlight for the two days given up to their natural work.

The steer-roping which was not as fast time as has been seen in the west owing to a great extent to the heavy wind which was blowing head on, still the action was all those who demand realism for their money could ask for. Steer after steer was roped and thrown, only to get up before the roper could leave his horse and get to him. Then the work of throwing him again had to be done over and in some cases it required the assistance of another roper to get the animal stretched out and the rope off. Some of the ropers had hard luck in tying their captive down and several got up before the judges gave the word, thus losing their ropers a chance for the prize money. Three steers were thrown so hard that they were killed or afterwards died. There was nothing of a fake about the work of the animals or men and the spectators were given a chance to see real, wild and woolly work.

The steer-roping contest called forth many a hearty laugh from the big crowd. They could certainly buck and their riders were all good ones and role only with a surenigle and spurs. One steer threw himself sideways to the ground but when he got up his rider was still with him and the yell that went up from the crowd showed their appreciation of the gameness of the cowboy.

The bucking horse riding—both barrelback and with saddle—caused a thrill of excitement every time the gate of the chute was opened. Every broncho that left the corral was a "bad cow" in the fullest sense of the term and it is not often that such a large number of truly bad horses are seen in one corral, usually there are some in the number that will milk and refuse to be milked, and some in the number that will not be ridden by the worst in the land and without exception gave a display of bucking, pitching, weaving, sun-fishing and bawling that, we are sure has never been equalled anywhere at one time. Several riders found their mounts too quick for them and were "plum" in a few jumps. The first horse out from the chute three riders and this was followed by several others giving the same route.

The barrelback riders were more lucky than those who rode with the saddles, only one or two being thrown. Their horses were all bad ones but bucked straight ahead while those with saddle on tried to go four ways at once.

The relay race was a fine exhibition of trained horses and quick work in changing saddles by the riders. The sight of a rider coming up with his horse under the full run, leap off, re-mount in a flying horse and mount with the horse running is something not easily forgotten and causes one to wonder at the skill of the rider and training of the horse.

The wild horse race brought out the wildest kind of bronks. Young, wild horses that had never seen the wildest kind of bronks. The wild horse race brought out the wildest kind of bronks. Young, wild horses that had never seen the wildest kind of bronks. The wild horse race brought out the wildest kind of bronks.

These horses often are harder to handle than the regular outfit and it takes from three to six men to prepare him for the race. When turned into the arena with their riders and helpers hanging on to squealing, being thrown to the ground and again, only to get up and growl as the battle progressed. At last from above wariness they were forced to give up and submit to being saddled. Then, again, their riders mounted them while down and the crowd headed for the lower end of the field, giving their riders and the big crowd thrills and excitement enough to last for sometime to come. It was not away from their riders before they were saddled and several riders were thrown which added to the excitement in no small way.

When the maverick race was called, over 4000 men were lined up for the chase and the yearlings were turned loose all started at once to get their rope on the little horse and the big bunch of heads striking the ground was a fair imitation of a cavalry charge on a field of battle. Yelling and whirling their ropes these forty cowboys, in their different colored chaps and silk shirts made a display seldom in contact with some other riders rope and failure was the result. Finally a rope settled over the maverick and the race was over. Some of the ropers made perfect throws only to find that the foot footed yearling had gone completely through the noose and was still travelling strong.

The turn race, owing to the wet state of the ground was a danger to the riders, but the cowboys and cowgirls true to their nature thought nothing of it and the entry was a hard one and strongly contested. No accidents occurred in this race, which was lucky to say the least.

Many laughable incidents occurred during the course of the different events caused by the peculiar position of the contestants. In the roping contest one contestant caught his steer and threw him but when he dismounted to take the tie he found his steer up and again travelling. His horse, evidently through lack of training, travelled on, and it was nipped and tucked whether the steer would throw the horse or the horse the steer. The horse went down the buck throwing and kicking but was finally captured and the steer thrown again.

Running up in a few words, the Second Annual Gleichen Stampede was a success in the fullest sense of the word and was voted, as by the thousands who took the opportunity of visiting this old "Cowtown" and joining in the two days sport.

While assisting in the Wild Horse Race Friday evening just before the closing of the Stampede George Mosca caught a horse by the ears in an attempt to hold him down while the rider attempted to saddle him. The horse landed with both his feet on George's chest leaving the imprint of one hoof quite visible on his chest. For a time it was feared he was fatally injured, but on examination found by Dr. Farquharson and Dr. Rowell, of High River it was found he had one rib broken and although badly injured he was moving a couple of the following day and on Monday left for his home. Strange to say George was injured in the same place at last year's Stampede and once at his ranch at Mossleigh.

J. Erickson of Manson was thrown in the wild horse race and on examination by Dr. Row found he had broken his leg and had him taken to Mrs. Schmidt's hospital, where he is doing nicely. The winners of this race most generously donated their prize money in all to $250 to their unfortunate friend and when announced were most heartily cheered by the big crowd. The generous hand being E. C. Deschene $100, A. Parker $100, J. McMillan $25 and Harry Herbert $25.

Dick Nell of the H2 Bush had his shoulder dislocated in the large buck riding. After passing the judges his horse made for the fence and he was so badly hurt that he had to be taken to the hospital. He was a sharp turn throwing Dick off the fence. He suffered great pain and after receiving the attention of Dr. Farquharson it was deemed best to take him to the hospital. Mr. H. Hogg left on Tuesday morning for his parents at Winnipeg. Mr. Clark's daughter and two children are visiting him from Calgary. Whose business will prohibition hurt? The business interests, at back here Tuesday night.

Sunday afternoon Vic Scott was picked up by A. Warnock in an unconscious state about a mile across the track on the Italian arena, who brought him in his auto back to town. When he regained consciousness he was told that he had no idea of what happened to him as he recalled consciousness he said he had

Nanaka Notes

(Our own correspondent)

Gustave Marcy has received information that his brother Leon Marcy was killed on the Belgian frontier. His brother August Marcy is listed as missing. Gus Marcy is a member of our Oddfellows Lodge and his brother Oddfellows have extended to him their hearty sympathy.

Any of the people of Gleichen who are proud of their horticultural ability and think their own gardens the best in the district, should pay a visit to Nanaka and see the garden of Mr. and Mrs. Stevens. They would see a sight not to be forgotten. The garden just now is in great shape and Mr. and Mrs. Stevens are justly proud of their show.

The Oddfellows of Nanaka are joining with the Oddfellows of Gleichen and Strathmore in holding a picnic down at the river on the Indian reserve on July 1st. If the weather is fine a good turnout is expected.

The licensed bar-room is no cure for a "blind pig." During the first seven months of the year 1914 there were 428 convictions for the illicit sale of liquor in the province of Alberta and only 368 licenses granted; showing that there were more prosecutions for the illicit sale of liquor than licenses granted.

Majorville News

Quite a few people from this district took in the Stampede at Glen last week and reporting having a pretty fair time. They say they saw enough bucking and wild horse riding and roping to do for another year. The show presented rather a rough catch for men and animals.

A very severe electric storm passed over this district on Thursday and Friday evening of last week doing some serious damage. On the O'Toot ranch a rider was struck and the horse was instantly killed while the rider was found unconscious sometime afterwards by some neighbors. He was taken to Bassano where everything is being done for his recovery. Latest account at time of writing is that he might recover.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Rev. Mr. Ryan left last week for his new charge at Red Deer, much to the regret of the members of the congregation and of the Methodist Church. Before his departure a number of friends gave him a surprise party, when a very pleasant evening was spent. He will ever be welcomed back to Gleichen by a large number of friends.

There are two essentials to this traffic-boose and boys. The men who vote for the sale of booze has no kick coming if he finds that he is also supplying some of the boys. Edmonton Daily Bulletin.

The best souvenirs of the Stampede are obtainable at R. A. Bird's photo gallery.

Now is the time to get after the weeds.

WHY THE CAMPAIGN MUST BE CONTINUED

Financial Reasons For Continuing the
"Made-in-Canada" Movement—
Dollars at Home

Here are financial reasons why the "Made-in-Canada" campaign must be continued:
Imports into Canada, 1913, $692,032,393; Exports from Canada, 1913, $93,322,061.

Balance against us.....$798,660,332
Interest on our borrowings abroad.....100,000,000

Total settlement, 1913.....$898,660,332
Paid by us in cash.....$448,800,532

How do we do it? Very simple—we borrow $450,000,000!

Last year it was pretty much the same thing over again. So we borrowed some more. But (note this please!) borrowing wasn't nearly so easy; we couldn't get nearly as much. This year (1915) we'll hardly be able to borrow a dollar abroad! English and France need their money for other purposes.

What's to be done? For the honor of Canada, we must fall in with our obligations, and there's still that $450,000,000 of interest to pay!

Turn it over carefully in your mind and you'll soon be convinced there's only one possible way to meet the situation. We must import less and export more. In the words of Hon. Mr. White, Finance Minister, we must produce, produce, and keep on producing!

The more you think of it, the clearer it becomes that now and always it has to be "Made-in-Canada."

NICKEL AND NICKELS

New Light on a Live Question—
Everybody Can Help

Thousands of tons of Canadian nickel are at the present time in the atmosphere of German war ships, as well as of British and French war ships and submarines. From our mines near Copper Cliff, Ont., we have shipped out this nickel to the United States in a crude form to be refined and reshipped by American companies to the markets of the world. Up till the past couple of months ago, could have raised any objection to this as a matter of business, regarded as a "very normal" article. Here's what it is to do.

But at the present time there is not an ounce of nickel-plate in the German armament on the Rhine canal or at home or anywhere else that Canada would not gladly take back and pay the cash price to keep it in the country, until the war is over. That's practical patriotism just as selling the nickel abroad was practical business.

If we are so sensibly concerned over the nickel sold to the enemy in times of peace, let us be a sensibly and vigorously concerned about the nickel and the dollars we have been sending out of the country to buy things made by foreign labor, paying foreign dividends for the sake of foreign houses. If we Canadians are really in earnest we can require all damage resulting from the export of our nickel to Germany—by refusing to spend our money for foreign-made goods. We can't go back this nickel. But we can stop nickel and the dime and the dollar from going abroad after the nickel. It is a matter of business, not of sentiment. In a time of peace, as a bigger matter of business, we can help ourselves in a time of war by keeping our own money in the country to keep Canada prosperous.

PERHAPS you do not realize how many little "Made-in-Canada" goods are better than the imported, or how often it is profitable as well as patriotic to buy things made by your own countrymen.

If prohibition does not prohibit, why are the liquor people fighting it?

Buy an Irrigated Farm From The CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY

BECAUSE:

Irrigation makes the farmer independent of rainfall, and insures good crops, not occasionally, but every year.

Irrigation makes possible the successful culture of alfalfa, the king of feeders, which insures best returns in dairying and mixed farming.

Irrigation means intensive farming and close settlement, with all the advantages of a densely populated agricultural community.

Irrigation in the Canadian Pacific Railway Trigation Block is no longer an experiment, the year 1914 having absolutely demonstrated its success wherever intelligently applied.

You can buy irrigated land from the Canadian Pacific Railway at prices ranging from $35 to $75 per acre, with twenty years to pay and the privilege of a loan of $2,000.00 for improvements on the land. No principal payment at end of first or second year, and no water rental for first year. Assurances is also given in supplying stock in approved instances.

MARITIME PROSPERITY

What "Made-in-Canada" Has Done in the Far East in Promoting Better Business

One of the most energetic Boards of Trade in Canada is that in St. John, New Brunswick. This organization has recently been very active in the "Made-in-Canada" campaign, especially emphasizing the desirability of people who live in the Maritime Provinces buying the products made in the provinces by the sea.

After several months, publicity campaigning the St. John Board of Trade recently sent out a circular, asking the following questions:

Evidence of Improvement
"Do you find evidence of improvement in the business situation?"
"Is the 'Made-in-Canada' movement having a beneficial effect?"

A wholesale grocery firm, which is also engaged in spice manufacturing, replied in the following terms:
"There are quite decided evidences of improvement in business in the steadying nature of the markets. The 'Made-in-Canada' movement is certainly having a beneficial effect. We find that manufacturers, brokers, jobbers and retailers are all emphasizing it quite strongly."

A wholesale shoe firm reported:
"Business is about as usual; in fact our shipments were considerably ahead of February last year. Our retail department shows a slight increase also, therefore, as far as our business is concerned, we feel that it is about normal."

Business From Canada
A leading firm of brush manufacturers replied most encouragingly:

"Business so far as we are concerned has decidedly improved in the last six or eight weeks; so much so in fact that we are now busier than we have been since this time two years ago, and we have been forced to run overtime in some sections in our endeavor to catch up with our orders. This improvement is only to a very slight extent due to business arising from the war; it comes mainly from east of Winnipeg. We have no way of tracing the direct results of the 'Made-in-Canada' campaign, but from our general observations have no doubt that this has been an influential factor in stimulating trade."

One of the largest tea and coffee houses in St. John, said:
"We find in the west a more hopeful feeling, but without much improvement in sales. In Ontario there is a decided improvement. In the east, trade, with the exception of a few places, is about normal. On the whole, it would appear that the outlook is most encouraging."

A prominent dry goods firm made this satisfactory report:
"We feel that the people of the Maritime Provinces have every reason to be thankful for the way business has kept up. Business was well sustained during the fall months and the Christmas trade was up to the phenomenal season of 1913, and now indications for the spring business seem to be still more favorable each week." These answers offer convincing proof that business is not as bad as was thought in the Maritime Provinces, that it is improving rapidly, and that the "Made-in-Canada" movement is assisting in restoring more favorable conditions.

How Canada Has Found Herself National self-confidence was never fully asserted in this country until the outbreak of war. Till the tramp of the jack-boot began to vibrate in Europe we never really knew what it was to be flung entirely back upon our own resources. And the Made-in-Canada campaign is the best single expression of the change. It's one thing to have factories and railways booming in a time of fat prosperity when everything heads that way. It's a different thing to have to put your house in order and begin to look after your own affairs. Every dollar's worth of goods made and sold in this country in a time of war is a direct help to England in this cause; just as much, if not as directly, as every bushel of wheat that we grow. The Made-in-Canada campaign is one of the inspirations of British self-help the world over, and in it Canada can be truly said to have found herself.

LOYALTY TO CANADA AND HER WORKSHOPS

Women Shoppers Can do Most For "Made-in-Canada" When They Are Making Purchases

The editor of the "Department Store Magazine," a United States publication, has a strong article on the "Made-in-America" movement, which is a feature of United States commercial life to-day. Speaking of the place that women occupy in the nation's purchasing, he says:

"Upon the great mass of intelligent American women, who daily stream through the doors of our forty-five hundred department stores, rests a heavy weight of responsibility. It is for them to say whether some of the greatest industries in the country shall suffer or whether they shall come through the crisis stronger and more prosperous than ever."

"America can make everything that is necessary to the life and happiness of any man or woman. The most luxurious and beautiful fabrics can be produced here. Our carpets and rugs imitate the cunning of the Oriental weaver and often surpass his work in originality of pattern. The furniture made in America is unsurpassed, and our glass and china compare favorably with the finest importations."

The remaining three paragraphs are also taken from Mr. Platt's article, but in each case we have substituted the word "Canada" for "America," as there is no doubt that what Mr. Platt says about the goods made in United States applies equally as well to those made in Canada. In fact there is an even greater reason why Canada should be loyal to the products of her own workpeople and her own workshops. Canada is a young country in the early stages of industrial development. It has a small population spread thinly over a large area. Unless all interests in Canada combine to promote the general welfare, our progress is sure to be much slower than we have been accustomed to during the future years of reconstruction which will inevitably follow the war.

Revised Version

"Made in Canada" should be the motto of every shopper who enters a store. It is more than a mere trade slogan; it is a precept of patriotism.
"Made in Canada" means busy factories in Canada; it means happy working people in Canada; it means fat pay envelopes in thousands of Canadian homes on Saturday night; it means the banishment of the bugaboo of hard times and the return of prosperity for all of us despite the war.
And after the war is over it means a greater Canada than ever before, a Canada that will supply the world and reap the reward of a higher patriotism than that which is being voiced by European cannon.

All this can be accomplished if every purchaser who enters a store will choose Canadian made goods.
The great merchants are eager to meet this demand, and it is up to the shopper to see that the good things made in Canada do not lie idle on the shelves.

OUR BUSINESS INSTINCT

It's Good For Canada to Buy Canadian Goods

In a democracy like Canada manufacturers and consumers meet on a common level. Each looks to the other to do his part in this Made-in-Canada campaign. We need no paternal government to advise us. We need no ten commercial commandments as they have in Germany. This is a land of liberty. We think and speak as we like in loyalty to our own commercial interest. If we don't recognize that buying things made in this country is good for our pockets, our homes or our businesses, we naturally buy things made somewhere else. It's because we are finding out for ourselves without any paternal commandments from the supreme bureau, that it pays in every way to buy Canadian goods, that we are entering a campaign to do it. The German decalogue treats German consumers like a pack of children. The business sense of the average liberty-loving Canadian demands to be treated like a full-grown man. We don't need to be told that it's good for Canada that we buy goods made by Canadians. We know that; the same as we know that fresh air and good food are beneficial to the health. We don't even call it patriotism. It's just ordinary everyday, selfish business instinct.

It is practical patriotism to give the preference to goods "Made-in-Canada," and it is practical self-interest as well. Your money stays in Canada—lives up Canadian trade generally—and so helps to create a prosperity in which you share.

Alberta Estray Law

The Alberta Estray Law prescribes that the party who takes up an estray animal must immediately notify the brand reader nearest to his place to come out and examine the animal and take a copy of the brand, if any, on the animal. Then an advertisement must be inserted in the nearest local paper and also in the Alberta Gazette, and until the law is complied with the holder of an astray cannot collect any fee for his trouble or feed. Prompt action must be taken, the law being very strict in this matter. The brand readers are entitled to a fee of two dollars for each animal they examine and mileage to the amount of 10¢ per mile, not to exceed 30 miles. The cost of the advertising and the reading of the brands is a charge against the estrays animal and must be paid when the animal is claimed. The party holding the animal is responsible for all charges until it is sold or redeemed by the owner. No charges for feed are allowed between the 15th day of April and the 15th day of November.
From November 15 to April 15 a fee of 15¢ per head per day is allowed for horses and cattle dating from the day on which the notice is mailed to the owner of the estray animal or to the Alberta Gazette, but not exceeding the sum of nine dollars. South of the 24th township only five cents a day is allowed for feed and the total cost is limited to three dollars.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

A number of Blood and Piegan Indians visited their Blackfeet brethren during the Stampede.

John Dafee and wife of Calgary visited Mr. and Mrs. Henderson during the Stampede days.

R. A. Bird, our local photographer, got a great number of excellent photos of the Stampede which he is selling at reasonable prices.

A. Hardenburg of the reportorial staff of the News-Telegram spent a few hours in town Monday sizing up the prohibition situation for his paper.

Miss Bowser and Miss Ishbell Gooderham left on Sunday to spend their holidays with relatives in Prince Edward Island and Ontario respectively.

Mrs. H. C. Padley arrived last from Dillon, Mont., to visit friends and look after her business interests here. Her many friends were pleased to see her looking so well.

Wm. Diamond now of McLeod spent several days visiting his numerous Gleichen friends. He is one of our old-timers and spent a number of years as a member of the Blackfoot Reserve staff.

Mr. Mitchell, the C. P. R. publicity agent of Montreal, took in the Stampede and spent a couple of days gathering information concerning Gleichen district for publication. He was greatly interested in the Stampede and spoke most highly of it and all he saw and heard of this district.

J. E. Stuart has enlisted from Hanna and is now in camp with the 51st at Calgary. Many will join in the hope that "Little Eva", as his Gleichen friends know him best by, will return from the war unscathed. He was one of the most popular boys who was ever connected with the Bank of Commerce here.

There is much need of the appointment of a government veterinary inspector at Gleichen. Shippers from here are at a great disadvantage at present and some have to wait for days until one arrives. John Clark was obliged to wait here with a bunch of horses from Saturday until Monday night awaiting the inspection of a shipment. It is time the Board of Trade or some political organization took this matter up in earnest.

Red Cross Notes

Communicated:
The Gleichen branch held two successful tag days last week during the Stampede. The work was done on the streets mainly during the mornings and the young ladies deserve great praise, especially on the second day when they had to tramp through the rain and mud.

The following is a list of the collections:

FIRST DAY
Miss Davis.....	$ 35.50
Miss K. Gooderham and Miss E. Jones.....	51.00
Miss Aylott.....	15.20
Mrs. Vigar and Mrs.
Ramsay.....	13.30
Mrs. Harrison.....	12.35
SECOND DAY
Mrs. Brereton.....	9.35
Miss Perry.....	9.80
Miss Grieves.....	12.95
Miss M. Vigar.....	4.65
Miss I. Gooderham.....	17.20
Miss Bowser.....	15.35
Three cheques anonymous per Misses K. Gooderham and E. Jones.....	50.00
Two cheques anonymous per F. C. Vigar.....	50.00
Total.....	$296.60

Three of the young ladies who promised to take out collecting boxes and badges backed out at the last moment so one or two of the married ladies jumped into the breach and filled the vacancies. Hearty thanks are due to all who worked and to all who so generously responded to the call of the Red Cross.

The above amount will be devoted as arranged. The first day's collection will provide for three "Gleichen" beds in Cliveden Canadian Hospital and the three last cheques on the list for $25 each is to provide for the upkeep of these beds for one year. The second day's collection is to be sent to the head office to purchase much required surgical supplies and will amount to the balance of $71.60.

The last Red Cross report states as follows: There are a number of Canadian hospitals in France being supplied by the Canadian Red Cross Society as well as the Duchess of Connaught Red Cross Hospital at Cliveden, which is the base hospital for wounded Canadians in England.

The British war office has started the Cliveden hospital along lines superior to any similar hospital in England and in fact it is considered a model of its kind in every way. This hospital has now 500 beds but they are appealing for 500 more. When the additional wards are erected the demand for hospital supplies of all kinds will be doubled in the hospital alone.

The Red Cross Society in conjunction with the Canadian Army Medical Service supplies the following hospitals in France:—two casualty clearing stations with 200 beds each. Four stationery hospitals with 200 beds each. Four general hospitals with 1040 beds each. Six field ambulances with 50 beds each, making a total of 5,500 beds, not counting the 500 at present in the Cliveden Canadian Hospital.

Everyone can thus see that much help is required in money and supplies. Are YOU doing your share? Our boys are fighting for us. Who could be so mean as to refuse to help our own sick and wounded as well as those of other countries who are lying helpless. Humanity calls to all.

The Bassano Mail announced that Mr. Stone of Calgary will assume the management of that paper this week. Bassano newspapers have had many changes of management and we wish Mr. Stone every success in the hazardous undertaking and hope that the people there will accord him the support a place the importance of Bassano should give. Few people understand the cost, work and worry there is in publishing a newspaper and the vast amount of good it does for a town.

Once more we would say that changes for advertisements should be in this office by Monday noon.

Those who are intoxicated with their own intemperate thoughts, ask you to join them.
